LAWSON LITTLE IS NATIONAL OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP

Defeats Gene Sarazen In A Hectic Finish

By EARL HILLMAN
Cleveland, June 10.—There was little room today for questioning Lawson Little's rank as one of the great golfers of the day. Gene Sarazen's right to a place in the game's hall of fame, and the 44th national open championship, rating as the most dramatic and hectic in the event's history.

The 30-year-old Little, professional at Bretton Woods, N. H., owned the open crown by virtue of a 70-73 playoff victory yesterday over the doughty Sarazen at Canterbury Golf club. Little's defeat of the bronzed veteran who twice had won the event, refuted those who long had claimed that Little, winner of the American and British amateur titles in 1934 and 1935, never would reach the top of a medal play star.

But back of Little's playoff victory lay a Saturday which was long remembered. It was a day climaxed by Sarazen's amazing stretch finish for a deadlock at 287 over 72 holes as a 23-year-old youth set heart-broken in the clubhouse—himself possessor of a 287 score and a message from tournament officials that he had been eliminated for starting ahead of schedule.

The youth was Ed (Porky) Oliver of South N. Y. He had a due one under par 71 on his final round, thrown out as he and five other overanxious competitors were disqualified. They were Leland Gibson, Kansas City, Ky.; Lafferty, E. J.; Harrison, Little Rock, Ark.; and Johnny Bulla, Chicago.

Little, meanwhile, was battling gamely to a fourth round 72, going one over par on the 18th hole to win the championship. Sarazen, "The Knickerbocker Knight" whose golfing had been a colorful part of golf during a great career which saw him first win the open in 1922 and then the championship a decade later, started his remarkable run. He had birdies at numbers 11 and 13, but he even par and from that point in he needed par to tie. Little had even par through the 16th before the treacherous 17th almost robbed him of his great moment. The rough to the right on his tee shot, he pitched 30 feet past the pin. Without a moment's hesitation he ranned it home—and a par at No. 18 was easy for the game Little veteran.

Little had the upper hand in the playoff, however, and showed as much winning spirit as the crown. Sarazen had displayed in tying for the lead Saturday. Little went in at 34 and came home in 36 for two under par 70 as Sarazen took 37-36-72. Little won the first two holes and from then on he was in control as he outlasted the 28-year-old campaigner from tee to green.

Mang Motors Give Up League Game, Waukegan

Waukegan, June 10.—(RN Special)—Playing under unfavorable conditions—a pen soup fog after the latest blizzard—the Mang Motors football team of Kankakee lost an 11-0 defeat to the American State and Wire company team here last night, 9 to 0.

Bergling, pitching for the Americans, gave but six hits. McCarty and others, the Mang pitchers, gave up three and five hits respectively.

Diz Pitches Full Game With Tulsa
Tulsa, June 10.—They gave old Diz Dean an old fashioned homecoming to the Tulsa story book finish. He scored the winning run.

The one time fireballer coaxed his lame right arm with sidearm pitching yesterday but he battled straightaway in the pinch to block the Port Worth Cats, 5 to 4.

Two Oilers were out and the score was tied when Jerome Herman angled in the ninth inning. Two successive moves moved him. He was hit for the stopping, cheering crowd of about 7,000.

It was hot and sticky, the kind of weather Diz hopes will cure his wife and his major league hopes. He sidestepped a full nine inches for the trust time, allowing six hits including two home runs.

Catching A Few Off First:

By ORREN ALLAIN
Games tonight in the Kroeher league at 6:45 o'clock. Springers vs. Mill Three, at 8:15, Pinstripes vs. Davenport.

Lehigh baseball team plans to enter the Northeastern league next season. The team is interested in booking games this year and neighboring managers in the Lehigh Valley are being asked to see either Merle Sherman at the City Banks building or Ernie Babb at Lehigh campus.

Sports Editor Orren Allain, off on his vacation, left orders to print this bit of nonsense. Probably his subtle advertising for the annual Republican-News golf tournament.

"Golf is a form of work made expensive enough for a man to enjoy. It is physical and mental exertion for a deadlock at 287 over 72 holes as a 23-year-old youth set heart-broken in the clubhouse—himself possessor of a 287 score and a message from tournament officials that he had been eliminated for starting ahead of schedule.

"Golf is what letter-carrying, ditch-digging and carpet-begging would be if those jobs had to be performed on the same hot afternoon in loud checked pants and a shirt by a young-looking gentleman who required a different implement for every mood.

"Golf is the simplest looking game in the world when you play it right after you have been at it for 10 or 12 years.

"It is probably the only known game a man can play as long as he lives. It is a game that can be discovered it was too deep for him in the first place.

"The game is played on carefully selected grass with little white balls and as many clubs as the player can afford. These little balls cost from 15 cents to $25 and it is possible to support a family of 10 people, all adults, for five months on the money represented by the balls lost by some golfers in a single season.

"A golf course has 18 holes, 17 of which are unnecessary and put in to make the game harder. A 'hole' is a tin cup and a 'tee' is a small par of grass costing about $198 a blade and usually located between a brook and a couple of apple trees or a lot of 'unfurnished excavation'.

"The idea is to get the golf ball from a given spot to each of the 18 cups in the fewest strokes and the greatest number of words.

"The ball must not be thrown, pushed or carried. It must be propelled by about $300 worth of curious looking implements, especially designed to provoke the owner.

"Each implement has a specific purpose and ultimately results in getting to know what that purpose is. These are the excepts—has been completed the golfer counts his strokes. Then he subtracts six and says, 'Made that in five. That's one above par. Shall we play for 50 cents on the next hole too, Ed?'

"After the first or 18th hole the golfer adds up his score and stops when he has reached 87. He then has a shoggy, a pint of gin, suds, 'Sweet Adeline' or six or eight other golfs and calls it the end of a perfect day."

Kankakee Juniors Beat St. Anne
Kankakee's Junior Legion baseball team defeated the St. Anne Juniors 13 to 0 in a well-attended evening game on the Valencia diamond.

Henry Hands The Laurels To New Champ

By HENRY McFERRER
United Press Staff Correspondent
Cleveland, June 10.—If a few of us have our dreams come true that it is a sweet nightmare to sit with a fellow whose fondest dream has become reality.

It is doubly sweet when that fellow is a friend one who has taken a few tips and downs with you, and a few laughs and songs too.

That's why it was good to walk into the locker room and talk to Lawson Little after his victory over Gene Sarazen in the play-off for the national open golf championship.

Almost more than anyone else I know what that victory means to Lawson. And to Dorothy, his wife, who sat there on the bench in front of his locker, tired, not and all but choked up after 90 holes of play. I could sense enough for a man to enjoy. It is physical and mental exertion for a deadlock at 287 over 72 holes as a 23-year-old youth set heart-broken in the clubhouse—himself possessor of a 287 score and a message from tournament officials that he had been eliminated for starting ahead of schedule.

"Golf is what letter-carrying, ditch-digging and carpet-begging would be if those jobs had to be performed on the same hot afternoon in loud checked pants and a shirt by a young-looking gentleman who required a different implement for every mood.

"Golf is the simplest looking game in the world when you play it right after you have been at it for 10 or 12 years.

"It is probably the only known game a man can play as long as he lives. It is a game that can be discovered it was too deep for him in the first place.

"The game is played on carefully selected grass with little white balls and as many clubs as the player can afford. These little balls cost from 15 cents to $25 and it is possible to support a family of 10 people, all adults, for five months on the money represented by the balls lost by some golfers in a single season.

"A golf course has 18 holes, 17 of which are unnecessary and put in to make the game harder. A 'hole' is a tin cup and a 'tee' is a small par of grass costing about $198 a blade and usually located between a brook and a couple of apple trees or a lot of 'unfurnished excavation'.

"The idea is to get the golf ball from a given spot to each of the 18 cups in the fewest strokes and the greatest number of words.

"The ball must not be thrown, pushed or carried. It must be propelled by about $300 worth of curious looking implements, especially designed to provoke the owner.

"Each implement has a specific purpose and ultimately results in getting to know what that purpose is. These are the excepts—has been completed the golfer counts his strokes. Then he subtracts six and says, 'Made that in five. That's one above par. Shall we play for 50 cents on the next hole too, Ed?'

"After the first or 18th hole the golfer adds up his score and stops when he has reached 87. He then has a shoggy, a pint of gin, suds, 'Sweet Adeline' or six or eight other golfs and calls it the end of a perfect day."

Norway's King And Government In England

Capitulate To The Nazis After Two-Months Fight; Allies Withdraw

BULLETIN
London, June 10—(AP)—King Haakon of Norway and his government already are in England, the ministry of information announced today.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Stockholm, June 10—German troops in northern Norway, saved from what appeared to be certain defeat by the withdrawal of allied forces and the resultant capitulation of the Norwegian army, moved back today into the battered Narvik area, from which they were driven after a siege of several weeks.

(In Berlin, the German high command said the Nazi Swastika once more flew over Narvik, hotly contested northern port.)

Reports from Norway said the allies, who began their withdrawal in deepest secrecy last Wednesday, left considerable quantities of war materials, although they rendered much of it useless.

Further reports that the British destroyed 30 modern pursuit planes gave credence to Germany's report that the British aircraft carrier Glorious had been sunk in a North Sea engagement.

British authorities called the German report a "lie" but the destruction of the planes indicated the British were unable to return them to England.

Troops Lay Down Arms
Norwegian troops were ordered to lay down their arms last midnight. King Haakon VII, had secretly left Tromsø last Friday for England with the crown prince and the entire Norwegian government. (The king landed at a northern British port today and took a train for the south.)

The allied withdrawal apparently came to Norwegian soldiers as a shock—just as did the previous withdrawal from Mamsos, down the coast from Narvik. As late as Friday morning, it was reported, British and Norwegian troops captured 200 German prisoners in fighting along the Narvik railroad.

The cessation of resistance began yesterday, it was reported and by 6 a. m. today (midnight est Sunday) all Norwegian units in various parts of northern Norway had put down their weapons.

The declaration by the king and the government stated that the Norwegian nation decided on capitulation on the advice of General Otto Ruge, the commander-in-chief.

Pointing out it was impossible to continue the struggle without allied aid, the declaration said:

"If we continue to fight it would only mean complete destruction."

Abandon Resistance
Gen. Ruge, who was urged to go with the government but stayed behind to negotiate the surrender of his remaining troops to the Germans, issued a statement declaring that Norway, "in spite of the fact that we are not defeated," was abandoning its resistance to save the northern part of the country from "being completely destroyed."

According to experts here, there is therefore little or no possibility that Germany could hope to restore her supply of valuable ore shipments via Narvik this summer.

In gaining control of the battered wreck of Narvik harbor and the other northern Norwegian ports, Germany obtained a stranglehold on virtually all commerce from Sweden and Finland. Occupation of south-

Leo Brothers Freed From Prison But Troubles Not Over

Joliet, Ill., June 10—(P)—Leo Brothers' "time" was up today.

After serving eight years and three months for the slaying of Alfred Lingde, a Chicago newspaper reporter, Brothers will leave the Illinois state penitentiary before sunset—but not for a destination of his own choosing.

Warden Joseph Ragen said he was holding a warrant for Brothers' arrest on an indictment charging him with murdering John De Blase, a cab driver, in St. Louis Aug. 3, 1929. The prisoner will not fight extradition, and will be turned over either to Missouri authorities or the Will county sheriff here.

"I'm willing to go back because I know I'm not guilty of that crime," Brothers said.

He was sentenced to 14 years imprisonment for the killing of Lingde, said.

MAN-MUST-LIVE THESIS STRESSED FOR EDUCATION
Mt. Pleasant, Mich.—(UP)—School instruction must be predicated on a "man must" live thesis to prevent a revolt of youth and taxpayers, Dr. T. Luther Purdon of the University of Michigan believes.

Dr. Purdon says that personal and vocational guidance are paramount in an educational system designed to equip men and women to earn livings. Secondary school instruction now is intended chiefly to fit students for the professions, into which not more than 6 per cent of high school graduates can enter, he said.

Thousands Of Children Sent Out Of London

British Reinforcements Reported Arriving In France; Optimism

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
London, June 10—Fresh British forces have been landed in France, it was disclosed today, as the allies abandoned Narvik and northern Norway to pour all their strength into the crucial battle of France.

"Further extensive reinforcements" of the B.E.F. will be available shortly, Prime Minister Winston Churchill informed French Premier Reynaud, assuring him of Britain's "maximum possible support."

Churchill's message and official announcement of the allied withdrawal from northern Norway came as British military circles acknowledged that the situation in France is of "increasing difficulty."

A spokesman warned against undue optimism and said German tanks had reached the Seine.

King Haakon in London
King Haakon of Norway and his government, which capitulated last midnight after just two months of resistance against overwhelming Nazi power, already have arrived in London.

With the violence of gunfire across the channel rattling windows on the English south coast, Britain pressed forward her efforts to insure her own security.

While British bombers roared on new forays behind the German lines, the government made arrangements for the removal of 120,000 children from London to safer areas in the west.

The massed transfer, which will begin Thursday, was made imperative by the recent activity of German bombers over England, the air ministry said.

On Britain's Home Front
Its announcement was accompanied by these other outstanding developments on the home front:

1—Prime Minister Churchill, in a message inaugurating home savings week, told the nation that "no sacrifices can be too great" for "the price of freedom."

2—The air ministry called for volunteers for commissions in the Royal Air force reserve.

3—Information Minister Aldred Duff Cooper broadcast an appeal to the Czechs to rise in revolt when Germany "begins to stagger under the strain of war."

4—Britain's 10,000,000 cyclists were advised by the war office to keep their bicycles locked when not in use lest Nazi parachutists get them.

British Air Successor
The air ministry, in a lengthy communique describing the week-end operations of the British air force, said wide-ranging bombers had blown up hidden German ammunition dumps in the Ardennes, fired enemy oil stores in Belgium and strafed Nazi troops concentrations.

Seventeen German aircraft were reported shot down and six British planes were listed as missing.

"Scores of heavy bombs" were said to have been dropped on German oil tanks at Ghent, starting fires from which rose great plumes of black smoke.

Abbeville Raided
Abbeville was raided twice by heavy British bombers, and gasoline storage tanks in the woods north of the town were attacked with nearly 100 incendiary bombs.

The air ministry's 33rd casualty list, covering an unspecified period, brought the air ministry's totals to date to 326 killed, 125 wounded and 138 missing in action, and 519 killed, 109 wounded and 269 died in active service.

The war office issued its eighth casualty list bringing its totals to 58 killed, 165 wounded, 695 missing, 13 died and 41 taken prisoner. The list covered an unspecified period.

NEW CROSS-BRED POULTRY SETS WORLDWIDE NOTICE

Their latest venture is to express by airplane a hatching of 50 eggs for a Nassau, Bahamas, agricultural project.

SWAINS' COMMUTERS ARE ALL UPSET OVER DOOMED FREE BRIDGE
Have De Grace, Md.—The "gold mine bridge," a two-way, free-way highway to young romance, may soon come tumbling down—and two Maryland towns are unhappy.

The 70-year-old, 10-decker span across the Susquehanna river links this town with Perryville. As a free bridge, it's loved by swains who court across the stream, by commuters and tradespeople.

Now a short distance upriver, a $4,639,000 bridge is about ready to take tolls. The old double-decker, according to a covenant with bondholders of the new span, would be demolished July 1. Citizens have asked Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor to look into the matter.

The Pennsylvania railroad built the old bridge in 1870, replaced it with a new span in 1908. In 1910, a group of citizens invested $700 in it as a traffic way. With the coming of automobile traffic, they cleaned up until the state bought the bridge in 1922 for $585,000. In six years, tolls reimbursed the state, and it was made a free bridge. Now, it looks like tolls are coming back if the old bridge goes.

Free Theater Tickets for You in the Republican - News "Dr. Cyclops" DID-I-FEEL-SMALL CONTEST

It's Easy to Win — Enter Today!
Open To Everybody — The Rules Are Simple

In "Dr. Cyclops" the Paramount picture coming to the Paramount Theater on Friday, June 14, the central character is a diabolical scientist who, through the use of radium reduces normal human beings to the height of only fourteen inches.

Many of our readers, though not exposed to the mysterious rays of "Dr. Cyclops" reducing machine have at one time or another had embarrassing experiences which made them feel so small that they could have crawled through the proverbial keyhole.

All we ask is that you write a letter of not more than fifty words describing such experiences. Then watch this space every day in the Republican-News. If your letter is printed, you will receive with the compliments of the Republican-News two tickets to the Paramount Theater to see the technicolor production "DR. CYCLOPS."

Here Are a Few Sample Experiences:

1. Walking on Court Street I spied a lady who I was sure was my wife. Thinking to surprise her, I slipped up behind her and placing my hand over her eyes, said "Who is it?" The lady struggled free, turned and slapped my face. It was not my wife. DID I FEEL SMALL?

2. I took my lady friend to a restaurant and after eating was so engrossed in her charms that I walked out without paying my check. The cashier followed us out to the street and said, "You forgot (2) to pay your check." DID I FEEL SMALL?

Here Are the Few Simple Rules:

1. Write on one side of the paper only, in fifty words or less.

2. Sign your name and address plainly. (We will print only your initials, but we must have your correct name and address in order to mail you the theater tickets if you win.)

3. You MUST end your letter with the words "DID I FEEL SMALL?"

4. Do not send us a stamped envelope. WE WILL PAY THE POSTAGE IF YOU WIN.

5. You do NOT have to buy a copy of this newspaper or anything else. Just write a letter. The contest is FREE.

6. Address your letter to THE EDITOR, REPUBLICAN-NEWS "DR. CYCLOPS" DID-I-FEEL-SMALL-CONTEST.
